

My Dream Job

What job allows you to stand on a stage, tell jokes, and make people laugh? That's right! A comedian.

Because I'm funny, I think this is the perfect job. You get to see the joy in peoples faces. I will be sitting on a stool on stage. There will be a water bottle by my stool, a crowd, and of course chairs. I will be the luckiest person in the world if I get this job.

I want to be a comedian to make people laugh. Making people laugh will always bring me joy. I can get on stage and tell jokes which I like doing. I will see people constantly laughing and grinning. I think the crowd will think I'm the funniest person ever. (Man I really want to be a comedian!)

That's why it would mean the world to me to be a comedian!

What job involves drawing buildings and helping others build? That's right! I want to be an engineer when I grow up.

I've had experience by building things like an engineer before. I will be able to help others build so we can have more workers helping. I will teach others to understand how to build. Others will be building while I'm discussing to the new workers on how to build. The workers are building with cement trucks, cranes, dump trucks and more building vehicles, also other materials. I will have the job and be good at being an engineer because I've had experience.

I enjoy building things because it's my favorite thing to do. I will be able to plan what I want to build by myself and share it with others. I will plan out a building on mapping paper with math out on the sides, pencils and erasers on the sides of the blueprint and sitting at a desk. I will stand in front of the building looking down at the paper and back up again. I think I will have good drawings for buildings.

That's why being an engineer is right for me!

What job allows you to teach kids how to dance or have fun while you're doing it? That's right a dance teacher.

I have always had experience with dance. I will be able to teach kids how to dance. I will also be able to have fun with them. I will be teaching kids how to dance, and they would be doing the same thing as me. I will be looking at them in their tutus. Now I have had experience I know I'm going to be a better dance teacher.

I enjoy dancing because dancing helps me be flexible. I can help myself dance more, and every day I will get better and better. I will be showing kids how to turn, do their splits, and I will be having fun. I hope they will. I will be so so happy that I became a dance teacher. I will practice for all dances and kids will go to competitions. (I hope we win!) I think that kids will get better at dance and I hope they listen to me.

That's why my life would never be complete without being a dance teacher.

What has tackling, helmets, and blocking?
That's right football. It's my favorite sport to play.

I get to tackle other people with the ball. You wrap them up with your arms. They guy falls on the ground. He will be under me and I will be on top of him. I already hear the crowd cheering. (Man that would be wicked cool!)

I also get to block other people. I protect the guy with the ball. I block him until he falls on the ground which means I pancaked him. The running back runs by me as I block the guy in front of me. We are going to make the touchdown.

That's why I want to be a football player.

What job allows you to help people and gets to take people to jail? That's right a cop.

I want to help people stay safe so no one has to get getting hurt. I will help people stay safe so tat people will not get sick or hurt. I will save people from bad guys. (I will wear armor so no one will get hurt) I will arrest people. I will talk to the suspect. It makes me feel happy for myself because I'm helping people.

When I saw a car crash it made me want to jump out and save the person. I saw someone getting arrested that made me want to be a cop. If I see a car crash I will take the person out of the car and I will call the paramedics. I will be in my uniform protecting the people and I will take them to jail so that they won't harm anyone else. It makes me feel excited.

That's why my life would not be complete if I could not be a cop.
